Human Resource Management

Ensure your business is successful by effectively managing your people and resources. Through the Human Resource Management module you'll develop your knowledge of how the HR function can help to sustain your business and the change happening to it in the modern world.

Feed your motivation.
Discover your potential.
Embark on the next stage of your career.

What will I experience?

Our tutors have an expert knowledge of human resource management and as such will teach you about a variety of different topics including strategic human resource management, onboarding personnel and the talent led knowledge economy. You will also consider the issues of ethics, professionalism and human capital.

What will I learn?

Throughout the module, you'll learn to critique and review HRM research as well as how to introduce policies, procedures and processes to improve the workplace. By the time you've completed the module, you'll have an extensive knowledge of contemporary and emerging issues in HRM and how you can address these to avoid challenges in the future.
