WHAT DOES THIS MICRO-CREDENTIALS MODULE OFFER?

This micro-credential module will facilitate students to explore their role as prescribers and the factors that influence this role in context of their role, function and responsibilities as a nurse or midwife.

The module addresses the mandatory regulatory Requirements and Standards for registration as a Nurse/Midwife Prescriber with NMBI in relation to the Professional, Ethical, Legal and Communication Issues informing Nurse/ Midwife Prescribing and Clinical Practicum.

WHAT ARE THE ENTRY REQUIREMENTS?

- Professional registration with Nursing and Midwifery Board of Ireland or equivalent in another jurisdiction
- The applicant must be an accredited Nurse/Midwife prescriber in another jurisdiction and require only this one module from the Certificate in Nurse/Midwife Prescribing Programme in order to register with the NMBI. They must not require the other 2 modules on that programme.
- Honours degree in a relevant discipline (however, relevant experience will also be taken into account- Evidence of completion of non-medical prescribing programme and practice experience of prescribing medicinal products is essential)
- Satisfy the selection panel

CAN I TAKE MY LEARNING FURTHER?

Micro-credentials are short, accredited modules of learning that facilitate flexible and innovative professional development. Trinity micro-credentials will be offered through a variety of online, blended and on-site learning that leads to accreditation in the form of ECTS. Delivered by experts, ensuring the high standard of education and quality assurance that Trinity is renowned for. We are delighted that we are one of the first schools in Trinity to offer this exciting and innovative learning opportunity.
